Curriculum Information

At GCSE we study for two qualifications: English Language and English Literature. We have created a diverse plan whereby students will study Literature texts interspersed with language skills.

We begin in Year 10 with the exciting, gritty, tragic and funny play, 'Blood Brothers' by Willy Russell, before exploring 19th Century non-fiction texts and the Conan Doyle detective story, 'The Sign of Four'. We also look at our poetry options during Year 10 and the language fiction and descriptive writing skills.

Year 11 begins with the study of the Shakespearean play, 'Macbeth', before progressing to Language exam skills, further poetry, and an early revision programme to ensure that we are fully prepared, confident, and informed for the exams.
